Practice

Steve specialises and is highly experienced in personal injury litigation and regulatory matters. He called to the Bar in 2001 and took silk in 2016.

His principal fields of practice include: -

• Personal Injury

• Fatal Accident and Public Inquiries

• Professional Negligence

• Health and Safety, Environmental and Road Traffic Prosecutions

As part of his Personal Injury practice in which he acts for both pursuers and defenders, Steve has considerable experience in dealing with high value claims arising out of clinical negligence, employment, industrial injury and disease, road traffic accidents (particularly those involving motorcycles), claims against the Motor Insurers Bureau, claims arising from accidents involving aircraft and claims arising out of childhood abuse. He is highly experienced in catastrophic injury and clinical negligence claims.

He has: advised and represented parties at Public and Fatal Accident Inquiries; advised and appeared for individuals and companies in relation to prosecutions under the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974, the Environmental Protection Act 1990, the Food Safety Act 1990 and related statutory regulations; advised and appeared for appellants in relation to improvement and prohibition notices served under the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974; and advised and appeared for the accused in prosecutions under the Road Traffic Act 1988 and other road traffic related provisions.

Steve is an instructor on the Faculty of Advocates' Foundation Course for new Advocates and is an accredited mediator. Since 2020 he has been a member of Scottish Gymnastics Conduct in Sport Panel.
