Practice

Gregor has a busy and varied practice in the fields of clinical negligence, personal injury and Inquiry work.

Working for both pursuers and defenders, Gregor is regularly instructed in medical and dental negligence claims, employers' liability, public liability, and claims involving catastrophic injury. Gregor also has a particular interest in the field of industrial disease litigation and is instructed by pursuers and defenders in relation to claims involving exposure to asbestos, noise and vibration. He is often instructed in cases arising from the offshore oil industry and in aviation matters.

Gregor has experience of professional negligence matters, acting principally for surveyors in professional negligence disputes. He has represented doctors and dentists in regulatory matters before the General Medical and General Dental Councils. He has underaken numerous Fatal Accident Inquiries and appeared on behalf of a Core Participant at a Public Inquiry into historic childhood abuse.

Gregor was a solicitor advocate from 2012 until 2018 prior to joining the Faculty of Advocates.

Representative Cases

X v. A and B Council

Gregor appeared for the second defender where it was successfully argued that no duty of care was owed to a general class of person when allowing 'unsupervised leave' to a child from a residential care home.

B&W v. Sisters of Nazareth

Gregor appeared on behalf of the defender in this historic abuse claim where Lord Weir held that a fair hearing was not possible owing to the passage of time.
